

Google in the News Mar '08

Contributed by Administrator
Wednesday, 28 March 2007
Last Updated Saturday, 08 March 2008

Google's stock price has dropped sharply the first Quarter of 2008. Where it goes from here is anybody's guess.

Google has come under fierce pressure from the investing community to continue to deliver results that exceed investor expectations. On a recent conference call Google management detailed the challenges that they are facing to keep up revenue and continue to grow the business.

Where Google goes from here is anybody's guess.